

Daily Planner Schedule

Authors: Logan, Patrick, Michael, and Andriani

Problem Statement

- Students struggle to plan out their daily schedule in a way that integrates their homework, classes and other activities, resulting in a more organized week which allows for greater productivity.

Who is experiencing the problem?

- People who go to work, school, or do any other sort of daily activity that requires time management.

What is the Problem?

- People often face much difficulty in balancing their daily life with their work/school.

Where does the problem present itself?

- The struggle to plan a daily schedule often pops up at school, at work, or at home.

Why does it matter?

- It allows for greater productivity and eliminates procrastination, which allows users to excel in their daily lives.